Root Cause Analysis Masterclass

for Health and Social Care Professionals

Includes opportunity for Learners to gain a Level 3 qualification in RCA Skills

1 Day In House Course to be held at your choice of venue
£2700 plus vat for up to 25 delegates

This intensive masterclass will provide in-house Root Cause Analysis training in line with The NHS Patient Safety Strategy (July 2019).

The course will offer a practical guide to RCA with a focus on systems-based patient safety investigation as proposed by the forthcoming National Patient Safety Incident Response Framework which emphasises the requirement for investigations to be led by those with safety investigation training/expertise and with dedicated time and resource to complete the work. This course will include an opportunity for learners to gain a Level 3 qualification in RCA skills.

Held at your organisation for up to 25 delegates, in-house RCA training is a cost-effective option for CPD group training. The training can be customised to your requirements and the training needs and experience of your staff. Having our trainers come to you will: save time, reduce expenses (by avoiding travel and accommodation costs) and minimise the length of time staff are away from their workplace.

“We think organisations should develop a patient safety incident review and investigation strategy to allow them to use a range of proportionate and effective learning responses to incidents. The proposal is to explore basing the selection of incidents for investigation on the opportunity they give for learning; and ensuring that providers allocate sufficient local resources to implement improvements that address investigation findings.”

(The NHS Patient Safety Strategy, July 2019)

This one-day course is designed to provide delegates with the key skills and knowledge that they will require to conduct RCA effectively. The course content walks learners through the seven-key stages to conducting a high-quality RCA investigation. We pay particular attention to planning and managing investigations, interviewing staff, mapping information, using appropriate analysis tools to establish contributory factors, plus focus on creating fit-for-purpose action plans and final reports. We advocate RCA as a team-based approach and concur with NHS Improvement’s 2018 statement ‘investigations must be led by trained investigators with the support of an appropriately resourced investigation team’.

The course also focuses on the reality of conducting RCA. Indeed, recent publications such as The future of NHS patient safety investigations (2018) highlighted a number of potential weakness and flaws that can occur when healthcare teams conduct RCA. We explore these potential pitfalls and advise on how best practice can be delivered in RCA.

Delivery is fast-paced and interactive with lots of practical guidance for learners. Attendees will receive many additional new practical resources. All learners will receive a certificate of attendance. However, please note that this is a Level 3 accredited course and all learners are eligible to gain a Root Cause Analysis qualification on the successful completion of a short-written assignment. This qualification may be valuable at a personal level but will also demonstrate to commissioners and regulators that staff have reached an academic-level of attainment in relation to RCA.

The course is facilitated by Tracy Ruthven and Stephen Ashmore (Directors of the Clinical Audit Support Centre) who have significant experience of undertaking patient safety reviews in healthcare. In 2016 they were commissioned by the Healthcare Quality Improvement Partnership to write a national guide for Root Cause Analysis.
